

MAOS Solar Spectrum

An extracted and wavelength calibrated solar spectrum taken in May 2015 with the Moletai Astronomical Observatory Spectrometer (MAOS) at Yale University. The colors shown above are approximately correct for each pixel. The spectrometer was designed and assembled by the Yale Exoplanet Group. Image by Matt Giguere.